The Kneeling Camel

By Anna Temple Whitney

The camel at the close of day kneels down upon the sandy plain to have his burden lifted off and rest again.

My soul, thou too shouldst to thy knees when daylight draweth to a close, and let the Master lift thy load, and grant repose.

Else how canst thou tomorrow meet, with all tomorrow's work to do, if thou thy burden all the night, dost carry through?

The camel knees at the break of day to have his guide replace his load, than rises up anew to take the desert road.

So thou shouldst knell at morning dawn that God may give thy daily care, assured that he has no load too great will make thee bear.
