Factors in Selecting a Church Home

There are many determining factors which influence people to select a church home. A survey in Houston, Texas, revealed the following reasons for choosing a church home: 3% came because of the pastor; 11% because of nearness to home; 18% because of the facilities; 27% because of being reared in the denomination; and 41% because of being invited by a friend. When was the last time you invited a friend to church?
